On Saturday the Strathmore and Harlequins of Calgary clashed and the local team received an awful walloping, being defeated 85 to 29. However the local fellows are not at all discouraged and are quite content to know that the prospects for their team are most encouraging and that by another season they will have the good ones stepping on high to gain a victory.

GETS $10,000 FROM $380 INVESTMENT

MELFORT, Sask.—Battle Axe, a ten-year-old stud, was bought by Kealey in 1924 for $38. Kealey trained him and started him on the western circuit this year, entering him in 11 races and capturing them all, winning 24 out of 26 starts.

A year in having Congress appropriate $500,000 to investigate new sources of rubber supply. This investigation and personal investigations that have made, show there are many tropical countries where rubber can be grown profitably.

On account of the enormous capital required for the growing of rubber, and as investments are without return for several years, Americans are not keen to make these investments unless they are in countries under control of or protected by their own Government.

There is no question that today the rubber growing industry is one of the most valuable possessions of the British Empire has. This fact is borne out by the significant statement of Winston Churchill in referring to the Stevenson Restriction. He said that "One of the principal means of paying the debt to America is the provision of rubber."

It is unthinkable that Americans will sit idly by and allow a "monopoly" as vital to our selling, transportation and commerce to be in the tight grip of a foreign monopoly, that tells us how much rubber we need receive and how much we are to pay for it. In January 1923—two months after the Stevenson Restriction Act was announced—presented figures and statements to officials in Washington showing them the seriousness of the situation and succeeded in April of the same

These notices, which follow up the preliminary advice given recently by Premier Bowles, take effect as from August 26. Under the terms of the original agreement three months warning is called for, and the arrangement between the C.P.R. and the provincial government, by which the former operates the northern railways, will therefore expire November 10 next.

Attorney General Lyburn and Hon. W. W. Smith, minister of railways, both state that the next move in the case, if the C.P.R. proposes negotiating for a new lease, must come from that source. The way is still open, they point out for further offers from either of the transcontinental railways, if it satisfactory and acceptable terms are not arranged in this way, the two lines will be operated by the government itself through its railway department.

BRITISH COLUMBIA EXPORTING POTATOES TO CALIFORNIA

—O—
VICTORIA, B.C.—Arrangements for the export of large quantities of British Columbia seed potatoes to California are being made this year by a potato grower of that state. The British Columbia potatoes are desired in California for seed purposes because they introduce new strength into the southern strain. Experiments were made with Canadian grown seed last year in California and growers were well satisfied with results.

ENGLAND SETS THE PRICE ON RUBBER CONSUMED IN U. S.

By Harvey S. Friesome.

On August 1st the British Government will unquestionably adopt a more drastic restriction of the production and exportation of rubber, and I feel should bring to the attention of the American car owner the full import of what this means.

The minimum price of rubber under the new restriction is to be set at 12 cents per pound. The Stevenson Restriction Act as originally adopted November 1, 1922 fixed the minimum price at 25 cents per pound. One of the arguments for the adoption of the scheme was to stabilize the price of rubber between 25 and 30 cents per pound, but instead of fulfilling this function it only increased the price beyond all reasonable limits but also through resulting wide fluctuations made a very unstable, speculative and hazardous condition for the rubber manufacturers.

Rubber was selling around 14 cents per pound when the Stevenson Restriction Act became effective. The Act allowed 90 per cent of normal production to be exported and called for quarterly revision according to the price of rubber. That is, if the price of rubber fell below an average of 25 cents per pound for any quarter an additional 5 per cent restriction would be placed, and if the price of rubber for any quarter averaged above 30 cents an additional 5 per cent would be stable between 25 and 30 cents per pound.

Immediately upon the adoption of the Restriction Act the price of rubber advanced. The first quarter's average was above 25 cents per pound and sold as high as 30 cents per pound with practically the same available rubber stock in the world as existed in the previous quarter when rubber was 14 cents per pound. It was not until the second quarter in 1924 that the average price of rubber fell below 25 cents, at which time an additional 5 per cent was restricted. Next quarter rubber was still below 25 cents per cent of normal production to be shipped from the British colonies.

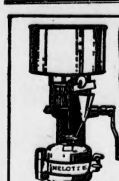

These additional restrictions advanced the price in the last quarter of 1924 the price of rubber averaged above 30 cents per pound and 5 per cent was released. The price continued above 30 cents—in fact sold as high as $1.23 per pound in 1925—and according to the provisions of the Act, 100 per cent of standard production was released on February 1, 1926. These additional releases of rubber brought the price of rubber down from over $1.00 per pound during the last quarter of 1925 to an average of 40 cents per pound in April 1926.

On April 26 of this year the British Colonial office announced that if the price of rubber for the next quarter beginning May 1st, did not remain above 42 cents per pound for the quarter, it would place a new restriction on rubber allowing only 80 per cent of normal production to be exported in the following quarter, starting August 1st, 1926. But he continued to decline rapidly until it reached 42 cents, and now the average price for the quarter is 42 cents. As there are over 25,000 tons of rubber in London under the control of powerful latter cases whose purposes are best served by having this new restriction, and as the Act calls for the price to be fixed for each day by the last sale at 3 o'clock, it should be very plain to Americans that this quarter's average is more likely to be a little under 42 cents than a little over, and that on August 1st, we will again have British rubber production and exportation restricted to only 80 per cent of normal production.

This being so, I want to call particular attention to the fact that the minimum price of rubber fixed by the new restriction is 42 cents instead of a minimum price of 25 cents fixed by the Stevenson Act of November 1, 1922, of 17 cents per pound higher. One cent a pound advance on rubber imported into the United States in one year means over eight million dollars. It is very easy to figure that American automobile has an additional minimum cost of $126,000 per year.

It is unthinkable that Americans will sit idly by and allow a "monopoly" as vital to our selling, transportation and commerce to be in the tight grip of a foreign monopoly, that tells us how much rubber we need receive and how much we are to pay for it. In January 1923—two months after the Stevenson Restriction Act was announced—presented figures and statements to officials in Washington showing them the seriousness of the situation and succeeded in April of the same

ALBERTA REQUIRES

THIRTEEN THOUSAND EXTRA LABORERS

EDMONTON, Alta.—Thirteen thousand and harvest laborers for Alberta this year is the estimate of the province's requirements as reported by the Provincial Minister of Labor. This is an increase of about 3,000 over last year's figures, which is accounted for in part by the fact that there will not be as much labor obtainable locally as last year. It is expected that about 15,000 harvesters will have to be brought in from the outside.

ANXIOUS ABOUT C.N.R.

Premier Meighen declares he will not change the status of the C.N.R. and is terribly anxious to know how the story started. The Albertan may enlighten him somewhat. It doubtless started because his chief lieutenant,

M. Patenaude, in his candidature last election, had the disposition of the C.N.R. as his chief plank; the chief supporter of Mr. Meighen in Montreal—the gentlemen who supply the lavish campaign funds—want a disposition of the C.N.R.; the maritime provinces where he got his majority in the last election, want a change in the C.N.R. and the Conservative Senators favor some plan of disposition of the road. Under the circumstances it is not surprising if the people get the idea that despite the attitude of the leader, a Conservative government might decide eventually to get rid of the C.N.R.—Calgary Albertan.

CARSELAND

Harold Smith says: "Folks! I never tire of watching the birds at their house-keeping. They take it just as earnestly and have fully as serious problems as best us humans. If they stay at their tasks more than we do that is a lesson for us to ponder. I am earnestly hoping that nothing has happened to a pair of robins last year, built for three seasons now, in the same bush at Cheadle. These two are as interesting as any human pair that I ever knew. The Mrs. is a lovely old bird, who leads her Mr. a ragged life. He can never please her. When they build their nest, she asks him to carry enough sticks to nest half the birds on the farm. All but a few she throws out, and you can plainly hear her telling him: "Why you miserable old baster, you are as lazy as Tony Groen, what do you mean by bringing such stuff as that? Look at the fine sticks that nice looking robin in the Caragana hedge brings his wife—and me, the way I've worked for you? I swear, when I look at you, and think of me I might have had—but he never stays for more than that. And when she is sitting, the way he brings her worms, she is jaded at because he cannot bring still more! I figure that to equal his day's labor in this respect, a man would have to carry four wagon loads of hay construction up a stair one at a time. Nevertheless, he seems happy—it may be that I misinterpret his speech. Or he maybe knows what a lot of men never learn, that under all his better half's scolding is just a nervous anxiety to do her level best, you notice I said, maybe."

Paul Smith vouches for the story that a newly-wed bride from Calgary, now living here, went to a Carceland farmer to buy a cow.

"About what sort of a cow did you think you would like?" asked the stock raiser.

"Well, I thought maybe a covered or mottled cow would be about best. We often use those kinds of milk."

HOW SICK HAVE WE BEEN?

By R. J. DEACIMAN

(While this article was written prior to the change of Government, it loses none of its interest as a slight on the workings of the nation of our Federalism.)

This country of ours has been sick. We suffered according to the financial experts from financial mal de mer. Each particular party had its remedy. Why three separate schools of therapeutic thought. The Tories in their conceptions of things political, are allopaths. They have an idea that if you took a sufficient dose of their favorite remedy of protection the cure would be certain. Liberal point out with cold disdain that we have taken too much of this remedy for nearly fifty years and we are no better. To this the indignant Tory replies, double the dose multiply by two, so if it is used, you will walk up in the morning looking rich and prosperous as the graduate of a correspondence school. The Liberals in relative stranger with the job of his boss.

The Liberal school of thought is homeopathy—they tell us that they do not believe in protection—yet they would give us some. They even say it has ruined us, but their cure consists of a hat, or several hats, of the hat that has let us. That's why they have appointed a Tariff Board and at the head of it sits Geo. P. Graham. With the not-unpleasant idea of keeping the wolves away from Finance Minister Robb and sheltering the wind from the short lams who are so keenly the "breeds" of competition.

To the far left of the Speaker sits the Progressive band. They are the disciples of the political school. They rub the spines of both political parties while at the same time they read them little lectures on how to keep happy and well. These lectures are a combination of Dr. Frank Crane and Andy Gump. The former puts usual points in disconnected fashion, the latter lectures what might happen if deviation takes place. Wolfe remarks after reading Gump's Essay: "I don't know how to write such a poem that Quebec." Personally I would sooner be Robert Burke than Owa Quebec. Meighen might not agree with me on this point, for nothing would please the Hon. Arthur more than to get a foothold down that way. But, let it go at that.

What about the Sickens?

The country has been sick, but how sick it is a moral certainty that things are never as bad as they're painted. Good times are usually gone three years before the average man finds it out. Bad times have got their worst digs up to the fact. We have had our troubles. If hanging our heads, we are sure them—then heads in the dust should be the order of the day, that that won't help. Facing the music is a fact, if the thing comes from the bagpipes and you haven't a be useful. Here is one I have tried—No other country has made such progress in trade during the present. If you doubt that statement, look up the official statistics and names. I can far from giving the brains of statesmen credit for the fact, but it is so. Personally I venture the fact that a shower of rain in a dry anatomy.

Try a Tonic

For all our troubles a tonic much more to the point than the night country than a cabinet shuffle, no matter who is in power. But the fact is that we have made immense progress. Our total export of grain and farm products rose in the year ending March 31st, 1925, came within a couple of million dollars of equality with our total exports of all commodities in 1912, the year before the outbreak of the war. That is only a trifling bit of Scotch blood in your whole constitution. But it points the way. Search the records of the nations; I you will, you will find a hard job to find one that is in a statement of our comparisons can equal this little country we call home.

Our Exasperating Taxes

We have been living under the hal-lucination that we were being led to death by high taxes. It sounds well, but it's not true. One of the most noticeable things is relative stranger in the House of Commons is the persistence with which we seek guidance from the U.S. If it rains in Washington we turn up our trousers in Ottawa—what they do we mimic. We do not say: "Go to the ant and get slugged, you sucker," but we are continually told that we must look to Uncle Sam and all other things will be added unto us. Now I have looked, and perhaps there are some lessons to be drawn. Suppose we stick down a few facts and let the morals thereof take care of themselves. Here are the per capita figures of taxation in Canada and the U.S. over a period of years.

Canadian figures are from Canada Year Book, page 742. American figures from World Statistical Almanac 1926, page 285, and adjusted by adding postal revenues which are included as taxation in the Canadian figures, but not in the original American figures. Now we see from these figures exactly what happened in both countries. The U.S. during the war and immediately after, when taxes were high, had more revenue than we. The per capita burden was much higher than ours. Having shed the burden to the fact

NINTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

Report by Department of Agriculture, Government of Alberta, Edmonton, August 21, 1926.

Harvesting of wheat is proceeding slowly, and is about 25 per cent complete. The grain in the provinces has been held up the ripening process somewhat, and in a few localities have hindered harvesting, but in the main the rains have considerably assisted the filling of the grain, especially the late wheat and the coarse grains. The general effect has been good, save in one or two districts where the drought has been severe and where the grain is too far gone to recover. The district so affected, as has been previously stated, are very limited in extent. It may be safely stated that the rains which have come during the first two weeks of August will have the effect of adding considerably to the yield of wheat, and of causing recovery of much of the oats and barley which were making a poor showing.

There has been no frost to speak of, and the damage from hail has not been heavy this year. The sawfly is reported active in one or two localities, but damage is not extensive. A slight appearance of rust is reported from some districts.

The weather remains cool and showery. The rains have been fair game during the first two weeks of the month, being somewhat heavier in the central and southern portions.

The present situation is well in hand and a sufficient supply of harvest hands is assured.

LEARNING ABOUT ALBERTA

Request for full information concerning Alberta, with suitable illustrations, has been received by the provincial publicity bureau from the California council of education, which is revising its geographical text book, and wishes to include a generous reference to Alberta. This is one of many indications accepted recently that greater attention is being paid to securing information about the Canadian west than ever before, by the people across the line.

PREPARE FOR ROADS CONVENTION

The Canadian good roads association will hold its annual convention in Edmonton this year, on September 28, 29 and 30. It is expected that some 70 delegates will be present and that the advantages to be derived from the occasion by the eastern visitors to see something of the charms of Alberta's mountain scenery.

LARGE FUR SALE

The largest fur sale ever held in Edmonton took place during the past week, when furs valued at over $125,000 were sold, with buyers present from New York, Montreal, Seattle and other points.

They were able to reduce sooner. I am not attempting to argue as to which side has the more correct or ample arguments on both sides. The facts are there.

LOCAL NOTINGS

The Prairie Circle Women's Institute and the United Church Ladies Aid gave a farewell party last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cottrell to two departing members, Mesdames W. H. Fraser and H. Nelson, who are soon to leave the Cereal district. There were twenty-five members present; and on behalf of the two organizations, Mrs. J. C. Cottrell presented Mrs. Fraser with a hand-painted salad dish and Mrs. Nelson with a half-dozen community plate spoons—Cereal Records. Mrs. Nelson will become a resident of Strathmore. Mr. Homer Nelson, her husband, is engaging in the dairy business with R. W. Gardner.

S. H. Crowther has returned from Edmonton and is busy organizing the school work of the ensuing year. Mr. Crowther has been appointed principal succeeding R. L. Whitney who accepted the principalship of Red Deer. Mr. Crowther's friends are congratulating him upon his promotion and predicting success for himself and the school.

Seven Swenson expects to start his new combine machine this week and a number of the farmers are expectantly waiting to see the results of this new machine.

John Taylor was in fine humor yesterday, having succeeded in setting his new electric motor connected up and was the first citizen to secure power from the United Electrical Engineering Co. John says it sure is a fine change from working with a bawky gas engine.

Sunday the Strathmore Stork was working overtime at Mrs. Mackenzie's Hospital. When Dr. Giffen presented Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stevens of Nanaimo, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Robins of Osoyoos, each with young sons.

Col. Barrett, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, passed through Strathmore on Wednesday and was welcomed by Secretary Dunn of the local lodge and several others of the local "Bills". They endeavored to coax the Colonel to remain over, but he had had such a good time at the coast and was several days behind his schedule, that he could not spare the time. However he promised to faithfully visit the local lodge at a later date.

On Labor day the Elks will give a picnic for the kiddies in the park. It will be free to all kiddies under 12 years of age and Secretary Dunn is so busy as a cat with nine tails making arrangements for the "cats" confectionery and ice cream cones, in addition to telling the rest of the "Bills" where they are supposed to be in head and not give any back talk, but just get busy. It is a sure thing that the kiddies are in for a big day. "Bills" says so, and that goes.

Mrs. Bartelen who was married last April to Mr. Paul Bartelen and left the following day for Holland to spend the summer with her mother returned to Strathmore on Wednesday.

P. W. Erickson of Wood Hill, Ill. is a visitor in the Strathmore and Chesham districts. Mr. Erickson is interested in land in the Chesham territory and is delighted with the out-

 Sunday, September 5th, being the anniversary of the unveiling of the Memorial Tablet, it would be most fitting to observe it as Decoration Day, and all who have this sentiment are requested to place flowers on the monument.

The Hall and Finance Committee of the Memorial Hall wish to express their thanks for the following donations to the Memorial Hall Building Fund: Strathmore Stampede Committee, $19.70; Strathmore Lodge B.P.O.E. No. 123, $14.02; Barbor and Craddock (stampede donation omitted) $10.00; T. Mendonning $5.00; Anonymous, $1.00; D. McDonald, two ornamental glasses, the sale of one realising $15.00.

If you meet Fred Dunn and he does not pay much attention to you, you will understand that he is shy, preoccupied, planning and scheming how to arrange the details of the Elks big picnic for the kiddies on Labor Day, Sept. 6th. He remained still long enough to inform the Standard that all children under the age of 14 years, together with their parents were cordially welcome, that the entertainment is absolutely free and that the Elks would do themselves proud in giving the youngsters, a great program to say nothing of the fruit and confectionery that will be distributed.

Connable Tate has his "cattle eye" for a man and his wife and child who registered at the King Edward Hotel and after enjoying the hospitality of Friend Miller for four or five days took French leave through the night, overlooking the little act of courtesy of settling their hotel account before leaving. It has been reported that a party whose description corresponds, purchased the keys for a town near Swift Current, which if correct, they may be located at that point, from where they may probably secure free return transportation.

The demand for electric light globes and fixtures is becoming quite brisk, since the "pale" has arrived from Russia. Many who hesitated to make the change are more than anxious to secure the new light, realizing not only the efficiency of the electric light but also the increased safety, especially in the homes where there are children. As one man expressed even though the cost might be a few cents more each month, he would not be without it and could not be induced to return to the use of candle or kerosene.

Eddie Nutter, Ford salesman from Calgary, was feeling very strong when he was in town last week, and suggested to Spence Hughes that he allow him an opportunity to polish up some of the cars. In a moment of weakness Spence, consented, but after watching him work for about two hours, he couldn't stand it any longer, so he told him to vamoose. Spence says he may be a good salesman, but he is the "cats whiskers" when it comes to real work and he wouldn't give $5.00 a week.

an automobile trip. Later in the day "Pete" returned very much subdued and penitent, looking for Eddie Penstemon, from whom he wanted to make a small loan, to pay for the car which had run out of a milk wagon and needed the attention of a first class mechanic.

Eddie explained to all that he had given Pete a permit to lay off, on account of his good work in rubbing the line to Strathmore, but Allan knew all the time it was a story framed up before Tedd and Penstemon.

However Pete was so pleased that he gathered up an armful of ice cream cones and presented them to the kids on railway avenue.

ON DISAPPROVAL

Murphy had been presented with triquet and was so elated over the event that he called in everybody to see them. Among the visitors was Hogan. "Ah" what do you think of that?" demanded the proud father, pointing to his row of offspring. "Well" replied Hogan, judiciously, looking the babies over carefully and pointing to an especially healthy specimen, "I'd be kept that one."

ROCKYFORD

A delightful shower and dance was given on Wednesday last, in honour of Mrs. Campbell, formerly Miss Pauline Griffiths of Rockyford, whose marriage took place on August 18th. To the strains of Edmund's wedding march the proceedings opened, and after a few dances the bride, looking charming in a pink frolic opened the numerous beautiful gifts, which were a great testimony to the esteem and affection in which she is held by her numerous friends. Miss Paula Pust and Miss Wells assisted Mrs. Campbell on the one hand and the bridegroom on the other during the task of opening and displaying the gifts to a large and appreciative gathering. After which Mr. Black made a short and very witty speech, in which he deplored the fact that local bachelors had allowed a stranger to come in and take away one of Rockyford's most obliging young ladies. Mr. Black laid particular stress on the qualities of luck and fortune which Mrs. Cambell had always displayed in her position of telephone operator at Rockyford. The bridegroom then responded with a few well chosen words, after which a splendid supper was served which was very much appreciated by the guests of the evening, as also were the candies and smokes presented by the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will reside in Beloeur where Mr. Campbell has a position in the elevator.

On Friday, 20th, Mr. E. J. Garland held a meeting at Rockyford.
His speech was similar to that made at Strathmore the previous week. It was listened to with great interest by a small but keenly increased audience.

On September 1st the Rockyford High School will open in charge of Miss Joyce Sherry from Crescent Heights, Calgary. 25 pupils have already enrolled. A statue in the course of being built for the accommodation of ponies of the pupils.

Mrs. H. A. Buppe and children are at present on a visit to friends and relatives in Pendleton Oregon.

Mr. Walrod had the misfortune to have his crop at Runney completely boiled out, this was most unfortunate as Mr. Walrod tells us that he carried no insurance.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Glewin and family were visitors at the farm of Mr. G. T. Berry near ing to some of the Jones estate.

A good crowd attended the Garland meeting Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Archibald of Tricanna and Miss A. B. Cameron of Calgary were guests at the Comstock home Sunday.

Mr. W. T. Kelly of the A. P. Elevator has been transferred to Drum-heller and Mr. Jones has been transferred to this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Halsewood and children are on a two week's holiday.
They are visiting friends in the S. 4th party of the Province and will attend summer school at Mt. Royal.

The Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs.
Geo. Deane, Thursday Sept. 2nd. It is desired all should be present to plan the Bazaar in the early fall.

A meeting of the United Church
Board was held on Friday Evening August 20th in the Parsonage at Rockyford. All the appointments of the district were represented and as far as possible the business of the church was studied and plans made to carry out a helpful and interesting program. An exchange among the S.
S. Superintendents of the circuit will establish a closer fellowship and a Sunday School Institute will we hope work out for instruction and inspiration. The minister Rev. C. G.
Hocking is to take two weeks vacation.
The choir will lead the congregation in a service of song at Rockyford on Sunday evening, August 29th.

SISTERS SACRIFICE FORTUNES TO WED MEN OF CHOICE

Chicago—Choosing marriage rather

man. Her decision to marry Signor Mado-Kyriake prevents her from receiving $100,000, promised by her father if she and her sister both remain single until they are 30 years old.

Josephine Kryn, the violinist, and sister of Miss Kryn, also assented to the generous offer of her father by marrying Paul Taylor White, the com-

ANTICIPATES PUBLIC OPINION

The Telegram, as a high constitutional authority and a slow and careful solver of its opinions, evidently believes not only that the Governor-General was right in refusing Premier King whatever it was that he wanted, and that the Government would have been quite within his constitutional rights if he had got out a machine gun and shot all the Laborites, Progressives, Labor men and Independents, French-Canadians and all other opponents of the Conservative party in Parliament and out of it—Toronto Star.

No such thought probably occurred to anybody save the Star, but having a better idea than usual of public sentiment, it has possibly voiced a comment that some indignant people may think worthy of endorsement.

A little boy who had lived in London all his life was invited by a distant relative to spend a week-end in the country.

All his friends complimented him on his luck, but the boy himself was not at all happy at the thought and he refused.

Coaxing, argument, pleading and promises of untold wonders left him cold. "No country for me," was his ultimatum.

"But why not?" asked his father.
"Because," replied the boy, "they got no thrashing machines down there, and it's quite bad enough here where it's done by hand."

"I'm sorry," said Jean Kimmet, "but if the Wop is going to umpire to-day, I don't think I'd better play."

"Why not?" inquired the manager. "You see, it's this way," explained Kimmet, "I know him pretty well, and would certainly tell him what I think of him."

Wife: "Just think of it! A couple got married a few days ago after a courtship which lasted fifty years."

Husband: "I suppose the poor old man was too feeble to hold out any longer."

Two young Strathmore ladies were discussing the latest styles in hosiery when the latter very gallantly offered to pay for a pair for each of the young ladies. If they would so and purchase and have them charged to the young men's personal account. Nice stockings and very nice young ladies so very well together, so the young ladies accepted the challenge and a few days later Lester and Bobby received a bill for $3.00 each, and they are now each better posted in regard to values, and also the high cost of living. Their friends are trusting that it will not be too disconcerting.

"Has your husband given up golf?" "Yes, but he still retains the language for when he changes tires."

A Calgary seed company had received from a Backyard customer (affix) applications for free samples of their splendid seeds, and when the sixteenth arrived in the morning post the chief of the order department decided it was time he did something.

He dictated a letter to the man which ran thus: "Dear Sir: I am sending you the seeds requested, but what are you doing with so much? Are you planting the whole of your suburb with peas?"

A few days later he received a reply from his customers.

"No," it ran, "we are not planting them at all. The wife uses them for soup."

This is from Pete Teller: "I love to hear the alarm clock in the morning. I am unable to understand those who cannot hear the sound of it, and who each morning are impelled upon to burst it out of the window or stifle it under the bedclothes—just to sleep another half-hour."

For me the alarm clock is the symbol of life; it is a signal for action. I love to hear Teddy's alarm clock in the morning. I don't think."

"What did your wife say when you stayed out so late last night?" "I don't know. She hasn't finished telling it all to me yet."

"Why was Aggie sweating so last Sunday morning?" "She couldn't find her prayer book."

The doctor had two pretty children. One day a woman passing two small boys heard one say to the other: "These pretty girls over there are the doctor's children."

"Yes, I know," said the other. "He keeps the best for himself."

"He comes from fighting stock." "You don't say?" "Yeah, his pa and ma fight like cats and dogs."

Fred Nye says that there is no difference between an evening and a night, but you can take it as there is some difference between an evening gown and a—aw, gwan! No, kind reader, twin beds are not intended for twins.

The dentist released the man in the chair and after spitting out the blood and water in his mouth the man spluttered, "How much are you going to charge me for pulling that tooth?"

"Five dollars," answered the dentist.

"But—but—I understand that you only charged one dollar for pulling teeth," said the man.

"Well, generally that is my price but you see you yelled so loud that you scared away the other four dollar customers that were out in the waiting."

Mrs. Hickey: "I heard you say your Katie is workin' for a news paper in Seattle." Mrs. McArthur: "Yes, indeed. She's generally picked for correspondents in the big divorce cases."

A dejected Calgary man entered a store and said to the clerk: "I want a quarter's worth of car bolts."

"Sorry," said the clerk; you got into the wrong store. We only deal in hardware, but we have a choice line of ropes, razors and revolvers."

Billy: "How old are you Aggie?" Aggie: "Why, I am eighteen, Billy."

"Eighteen? Why you told me that five years ago."

"Well, I'm not one of those people that say one thing one day and another the next."

Those Barry says—many a poor woman who works sixteen hours a day has a husband who growls about how much it costs him to support her.

Bill Wilkinson says he wears as 'ow old bottles as never said a nasty word to his wife. What he wants to know is whether that's out of kindness or caution.

"I understand your cook has left." "Yes," answered the housewife, who was talking account of broken china, "but not much."

Thomas: "Is there any difference in meaning between sight and vision?" Jim Wolf: "I should say so. My girl is a vision, and yours is a sight."

New mind: "Beg pardon, ma'am, but that I wishes to make mischief, but here's a telegram come for the master, and it's a lady's 'andwritin', ma'am."

Bobby: "May I have the last dance with you?" Alice: "You've just had it."

BOW RIVER
ELECTION NOW
IN FULL SWING

The Bow River political convention have been held, and the U.F.A. and the Conservatives have selected E. J. Garland and A. C. Scratch as their respective standard bearers, while the Liberal Convention decided not to place a candidate in the riding.

A very determined effort was made by some of the Liberal representatives to induce the old war horse, Jesse Gouge to once again be a candidate, but Mr. Gouge could not be persuaded. The contest is thus left to the U.F.A. and Conservatives, and the issue should not be a difficult one for the electors to decide which party merits their support.

If the elector believes that a duty upon farm implements is necessary, if the Crowsnest rates would be more advantageously handled by the Hallway Commission; if the restoration of the duty upon automobiles will help the western producers; then it is quite plain that the elector should heartily support Hon. Mr. Meighen and do so by voting for the Conservative Candidate, Mr. A. C. Scratch. The petty talk that Mr. Scratch has been a member of the U.F.A., and that he would or would not have accepted a nomination from the U.F.A., has not a thing to do with the present issue. He is now the candidate of the Conservatives, and should win or lose upon the platform that they have presented.

Mr. Meighen has been very frank and definite that he believes in a protective policy, and has preached that doctrine from coast to coast, and his candidates are entitled to the voice of everyone who endorses that policy. On the other hand, if you believe that a low tariff will help to open more markets for Canadian produce and be more advantageous to Western Canada and Bow Valley especially; if you are convinced that the independent group to which Mr. Garland is attached will better solve our difficulties; if you are opposed to a protective tariff; if you are in favor of obtaining transportation rates upon coal shipped to eastern Canada at cost, then your course is clear. Mr. Garland, while heartily, as he stands four square upon these points of policy.

Don't be stampeded through a lot of political baw. Many of the spicers are endeavoring to belound the issue such as the Customs scandal, which is nauseating enough everyone knows, but is not a new thing by any means, and is not a question of Government policy, but simply the betrayal of trust by government employees, something that has taken place under all the parties.

The constitutional point has been much magnified and is simply campaign camouflage, and the destiny of Canada will be determined irrespective of whether Mr. Meighen or Mr. King is the next Premier.

BUSINESS IMPROVING UNDER FAVORABLE CROP CONDITIONS

The last official forecast of the United States winter and spring wheat, crop indicates a total yield of about 1,000,000,000 bushels, which, if sustained by the actual results of the harvest period, will be 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's production, and notwithstanding the crop is a fairly small carryover, will be 250,000,000 bushels above that country's domestic requirements. The spring wheat crop, however, is in addition to being short this year is not likely to be of good quality, but the winter crop includes a large percentage of hard red wheat. The condition of the United States crop is estimated at 1012 per cent. below that of last year's crop, that of the winter crop less than the 1928 crop, while rye and barley crops are expected to be 12 per cent. less than those of a year ago.

It now seems certain that the European crops of wheat and rye will not equal those of 1925. Official and definite forecasts have been obtained from France and Germany, but it is indicated that their production and that of Italy will be less than last year and it is understood that Central European grain was not well rooted. A new uncertainty but important factor in the situation in Russia; all that is known at present is that the acreage sown to wheat was increased slightly this year and that growing conditions have been favorable, but not more so than in 1925. Wheat seedling in Australia proceeded under ideal conditions and the prospects for the new crop were recently reported as excellent. The acreage sown this year in Argentina is expected to show some reduction and the outlook for the new season's crop is not as promising as that of last year.

The grain crops in the west have undergone a severe test from adverse climatic conditions. There have been periods of extreme heat generally, frost at a few points and hail in some regions. Naturally, damage to the crops has resulted from these unfavorable elements, the greatest loss being from heat in central-western and south-western Saskatchewan and in south-eastern Alberta. In some districts the crops are past redemption, in others, and they comprise the most extensive area, good yields will be obtained if further moisture is received shortly. One pleasing feature is the uniform freedom from the pests usually prevalent.

Field crops in the eastern provinces were greatly improved during July by heat and timely rains. Hay cutting commenced in Ontario early in July and harvesting of fall wheat was under way by the third week of the month.

Conditions have been favorable to the sowing and ripening of fruit, particularly in Ontario, although the yields there are not likely to be as large as those of 1925. It is these districts that the crops of peaches and grapes in the Niagara district will be light. In British Columbia rains have helped, in part, the shortage of water required for irrigation and good crops are expected in that province's fruit districts. Not more than average production of apples is expected in the Maritimes, but the total Canadian crop of this fruit is estimated as being equal, at least, to that of last year. The United States apple crop will probably be 10 per cent. above last year's production and a good yield is anticipated in Great Britain.

KARMONT WHEAT

IS RECOMMENDED
GREAT FALLS, Mont.—As the result of a campaign upon the wheat experimental substation at Moccasin, Karmont winter wheat is being urged upon the farmers of Northern and Central Montana as the winter variety best suited to the climatic and soil conditions existing in those portions of the state. The treatment of seed with copper carbonate to prevent smut infection is also recommended, as is the use of the furrow drill seeding method as a means of preventing winter killing and soil blowing.

In Cascade county, R. E. Cameron, county agricultural agent, has already begun a campaign upon the wheat farmers the purpose of which is to enable them to take advantage of the experiments that have been conducted within the Karmont wheat at the Moccasin substation. At a recent demonstration there attended by county agents the farmers, experiments carried on for several years were explained, and the results were presented and analyzed. The experimental agriculture is carried on at the substation, under typical northeastern conditions of this part of Montana.

THE STORE OF PERSONAL SERVICE

Approved by Station

"The Moccasin substation recommends Karmont as being the winter wheat most suitable to conditions in this part of the state," Mr. Cameron said, "and we are making the recommendation in Cascade county. At Moccasin, Karmont has proved to be the leading variety in an eight year test, averaging 26.3 bushels an acre in this period while Montana No. 24, the Kharkov, its nearest competitor, averaged 25.4 bushels in that time. Karmont and Turkey Red averaged 24.6 and 24.1 respectively. Karmont is a selection from Kharkov made at this station.

As the probable amount of seed available for next season is limited in the county, Mr. Cameron pointed out that the farmers should be busy in arranging for their Karmont supply. C. M. Storm of Power is growing 10 acres of registered seed of this variety and expects to have nearly a carload of approved seed. Andrew Ireland of Shinn is also raising about 10 acres of registered Karmont. Mr. Cameron said that some farmers in nearby counties are growing Karmont seed, but he does not believe the farmers from these sources will be much greater than required by the local demand.

Copper carbonate treatment for smut should not be neglected the county agent said. This should be properly done, he declared, as carelessness in the treatment often means waste of time and money.

Reports on the furrow drill method of planting winter wheat at the Moccasin program indicated decided success with this process, according to Mr. Cameron. It is his opinion that the use of this system of planting will go a long way toward meeting the natural difficulties in winter wheat growing in this region, the furrows on the one hand conserving the moisture and on the other hand decreasing losses from soil blowing. In each case, he pointed out, the character of the soil must be considered, care being taken that a fine soil is not pulverized and thus make the easy victim of strong winds.

Employment of the winter wheat variety best adapted to conditions here, and of agricultural practices which minimize losses will increase
